

Gifts of RRSPs & RRIFs

Donating the proceeds from your registered retirement saving plan (RRSP) or registered retirement income fund (RRIF) is an easy gift to make by naming KidsAbility Foundation as the direct beneficiary. Your retirement funds are amongst the heavily taxed assets that you own.

In naming KidsAbility Foundation as the designated beneficiary of an RRSP or RRIF, you will ensure that the proceeds will be treated as a charitable donation, allowing KidsAbility Foundation to issue a tax receipt that will help to offset taxes on your estate.

A direct beneficiary designation is simple and easy to do by requesting the appropriate form from your advisor. Proceeds pass directly to the beneficiary and not through your estate.

Our legal name that should be included in your Will is:
KidsAbility Centre for Child Development Foundation

Charitable Business Number:
89094 3673 RR0001
